Seyburn Kahn, PC

FOUNDED IN 1978, Seyburn Kahn is a full-service business law firm with the intellectual capacity, depth, and experience to handle clients of all sizes, from individuals to institutions.

We owe each client a duty to be accessible and responsible, and to deliver the kind of personal service and attention not always found in larger firms.

We take ownership and pride in the solutions provided to our clients and are dedicated to achieving excellence, both in service and in results for our clients.

Our primary practice areas include corporate and business services, banking, taxation and tax planning, real estate, commercial and complex litigation, employment law, health care, estate planning, probate, and sports and entertainment law.

2017 Top Lawyers from Seyburn Kahn include:

Bruce S. Kahn, a co-managing shareholder, chairs our corporate department, representing clients in all aspects including entity form, contracts, investment opportunities, and mergers/acquisitions. He counts among his clients a significant number of businesses, health care professionals, and law firms, and is proud to be called “my greatest advisor” by many.

Michael N. Santeufemia, also a co-managing shareholder, is responsible for the day-to-day oversight of the firm’s financial and operational concerns. Frequently recognized as a top lawyer in Michigan, he is a member of the National Association of Distinguished Counsel, which awards membership only to the top 1 percent of U.S. attorneys. His clients range from publicly traded banks and technology companies to professional athletes and entertainers.

Mark S. Cohn, a shareholder, is experienced in all aspects of real estate and development, as well as the structuring of limited liability companies and other business entities.

Ronald L. Cornell Jr., a shareholder, has litigated a wide variety of commercial, construction, real estate, and zoning disputes, along with shareholder and employment litigation, and banking and collections.

Whatever your legal needs, the dedicated professionals at Seyburn Kahn are ready to help. ■
